All transaction you made can be seen on the blockchain, but we do not know who the owner of Finixcoin (FNX) is if the owner does not disclose it.

TECHNOLOGY PLATFORM

Finixcoin (FNX) is developed on the SCRIPT Algorithm and Finix Coin (FNX) running on a Finix Blockchain.

PEER-TO-PEER NETWORK

In its simplest form, a peer-to-peer (P2P) network is created when two or more PCs are connected and share resources without going through a separate server computer. A P2P network can be an ad hoc connection—a couple of computers connected via a Universal Serial Bus to transfer files. A P2P network also can be a permanent infrastructure that links a half-dozen computers in a small office over copper wires. Or a P2P network can be a network on a much grander scale in which special protocols and applications set up direct relationships among users over the Internet. When a P2P network is established via the Internet, a central server can be used to index files, or a distribution network may be set up in the place in which files are distributed among the users in the network hosting a certain file.

SAFETY

Finix Coin (FNX) is not controlled by any organizations or governments. Finix Coin (FNX) uses blockchain technology and the database is continuously recorded and shared to all servers, so all information is impossible to be tampered or cheated. If someone wants to cheat, they must hack all the servers at the same time which is impossible.
